Williamsburg.

Mrs. I. L. Gentry is in Louisville purchasing goods this week.

The Jones Lumber Co. expect to rebuild their mill at once on the site of the one burned a few weeks ago.

Miss Mary O'Mara, who has been in business here for some months, expects to move to Corbin and open a stock this week.

Miss M. M. Tutt attended the McKinley inauguration last week. Prosperity had not overcome many of our people until they felt able to attend.

The recent rains have brought in several thousand logs from saw mills and while it helps them it is delaying the farmers very much and they are already much behind.

Owing to a cave-in of the Cumberland Gap tunnel all the freight trains pass this way South, which added to the regular trains makes this branch seem like a Main Line.

Rev. T. Z. Cody, of Georgetown, is holding a meeting at the Baptist church, where much interest is being manifested; there have been several additions to the church.

Wm. Bryant, who was arrested last Thursday by Marshal Wallace, of this place, on a bastardy warrant, made his escape Saturday night. Young Bryant was of a nice family and Mr. Wallace took pity on him and agreed to guard him and that was the way he received his kindness.

The republican primary election is waxing exceedingly warm in this county with about 60 candidates for the various offices. The judge's race leads with 18. The friends of the different candidates have almost come to blows several times over some of the electioneering schemes, of which there are many and some that would do credit to the vilest ward politician. The primary will be held March 23.

On Monday night about 12 o'clock the barn of W. R. Denham was found to be on fire. It was entirely too far gone to save, but the stock in it consisting of a horse, cow and some hogs were gotten out. The fire crossed the alley and burned the barn of C. G. Hoffman also, but owing to a shower having just fallen and hard work of the great number of men there, the further spread of it was prevented. If the weather had been dry no doubt a considerable portion of the town would have been burned as it was in a thickly settled portion.

It is reported that at the Liquor League of Ohio, a short time since a candid officer said: "It will appear from these facts, gentlemen, that the success of our business is dependent largely upon the creation of appetite for drink. Men who drink liquor, like others, will die, and if there is no new appetite created, our counters will be empty, as will be our coffers. Our children will go hungry, or we must change our business to that of some other more remunerative. The open field for the creation of this appetite is among the boys. After men have grown and their habits are formed, they rarely ever change in this regard. It will be needful, therefore, that this missionary work be done among the boys, and I make the suggestion, gentlemen, that nickels expended in treats to the boys now, will return in dollars to your tills after the appetite has been formed. Above all things, create appetite!"

LIFE IN THE WATER.

Each salmon produces about 20,000, 000 eggs.

It is said that the Greenland whale sometimes attains the age of 400 years.

The sea has no herbivorous animal. It is a great slaughter-house, where all the inhabitants prey on each other.

The authorities of the Dominion of Canada have presented the Hawaiian government with 80,000 young salmon, to be placed in the rivers of the Hawaiian Islands.

The most valuable fur is that of the sea otter. One thousand dollars has been paid for a single skin of this animal not more than two yards long by three-quarters of a yard wide.

A colored brother writing to the Bishop to send a preacher said: "Send us a Bishop to preach here Sunday. If you can't send a Bishop, send a Sliding Elder; if you can't spare him, send a Stationary preacher; if you can't spare him, send us a Circus rider; if you can't spare him send a Locus preacher; if you can't do no better, send us an Exhauster."

A dispatch from Nicholasville says: It is now generally believed that Walter Overstreet, who deserted his home and left a note saying he was going to kill himself, has carried out his threat.

One of the most effectual ways of pleasing and of making one's self loved is to be cheerful; joy softens more hearts than tears.—Mme. de Sartory.

It rains on an average of 208 days in the year in Ireland, about 150 in England, at Kozan about 90 days and in Siberia only 60 days.

Kingsville.

Mr. Fonda has rented his farm and will soon move to Cincinnati.

One of the men who not long since was asphyxiated in the tunnel is now reported as being a raving maniac.

Our cannery factory will be ready at the proper time for full operation under the management of Messrs. Roy and Thompson.

Business considering the hard times has continued very fair. Night telegraph operators at this place continue to come and go as if by magic.

Mr. L. F. Wells, of Junction City, made our town a short but pleasant visit last Sunday. Mrs. Della Maher, of Cincinnati, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. M. McCarty.

Kingsville is somewhat on a boom—a new residence of the gothic style of architecture, and arabesque ornamentations, is to be erected very soon by Mr. C. G. Baker for his own occupancy.

Two Mormon preachers have been in our neighborhood lately. That part of their religion which makes it imperative on the part of the many wives to support their liege lord is to the men-folk a very attractive feature of their creed.

Every town and village is said to have its "character," we have ours in an eccentric, old man, an old foggy silver democrat. He delights to refer to the simplicity of the early days of the republic, especially of inauguration ceremonies and enjoys telling of Thos. Jefferson riding on horseback to the capital and hitching his horse to a tree nearby, in order to take the oath when inducted into the office of president. He even, to the infinite amusement of the republicans, says that the late pauper and extravagant display of costly apparel and blazing diamonds was a glaring insult (in view of the depressed condition of the people of this country) to the patient and long suffering subjects of his majesty, William McKinley. The old man goes so far as to say the whole thing was in bad taste and was even bad politics; that the chasm between the powers that be, and the people is constantly widening and will at last end in revolution.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. J. B. Crouch, of Ludlow, will preach at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night.

Elder J. W. McGarvey, Jr., held a meeting at the Lebanon Christian church, which resulted in 13 additions.

Rev. David T. Condit, who was missionary to Sandwich Islands from 1836 to 1856, is dead at Beloit, Wis., aged 90.

An evangelist named Kuss is now engaged in an effort to convert New Orleans. A man may rise above any handicap.

Rev. W. S. Grinstead will preach at Hebron, the new Methodist church near Cedar Creek. Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. He will administer the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

The Sue Bennett Memorial School at London announces a Normal term commencing March 30, with a charge of $1.50 to $3 a month. Board $2 a week. Address Rev. J. J. Dickey, London.

In one of his Boston sermons Sam Jones said: "I believe that fun is next to religion and the next best thing to fun is money. If the fellow has religion, fun and money, I can't see what else the fool wants."

Preaching at the Christian church Sunday morning and night by Elder J. T. Sharrard. Morning subject, "Conscience;" night "Social Sins and Gambling." The young people's society meets at 6 P. M. Sunday.

Two preachers will be pitted against each other in the Legislative race in Pike county next fall. The democrats have nominated the Rev. W. J. May, while the republicans have selected the Rev. Anderson Hatfield as their candidate.

J. L. Frost, deceased, of Mayfield, willed $2,500 to the Primitive Baptist church for the erection of a house of worship at Wingo. The will was contested by the heirs of Frost, and the court decided in favor of the church. They will begin the erection of a church at once at that place.

This is the last night of "Uncle Joe" Hopper's meeting at the Maxwell Street church. There will doubtless be a full house to hear the last sermon of this beloved man of God and hear him sing "Old Time Religion." There was a good congregation out last night despite the down pour of rain.—Lexington Leader, 10th.

Through an invitation from Rev. G. R. Davis, chaplain of the Carson, Neb., prison, Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, attended the services Sunday, and led the choir. "Why Wait so Long" was sung and afterward the minister arose and preached a forcible sermon from a biblical text, "Fight not as one that beatieth air," which was very appropriate.

VICINITY NEWS.

Milt Green, shot and mortally wounded Blev Philpot, at London.

Two births and three deaths occurred in one house in Lebanon Sunday. Taylor Stivers and John Bailey, miners, were killed by falling slate at Altamont.

John B. Mason, an old man, committed suicide near Lawrenceburg by shooting.

Ed Harper confessed at Mayfield to complicity in a murder and was given a life sentence.

Policeman Amos McGaughey was acquitted at Lawrenceburg of the charge of murdering Al Woods.

G. W. Moore was beaten into insensibility by three Negroes, who overtook him near Pineville.

Casey county will likely vote on the free turnpike question in November. It will carry at least three to one.

James Bowles, an 83 year old Owsley county citizen, saw a railroad locomotive for the first time at Richmond a few days ago.

Richard Tribble, a Madison county Negro, was drowned in Kentucky river near Ford, while trying to jump from one log to another.

Granville Cecil's barn, in Boyle, burned Friday night. The loss is $3,000, insured for $2,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

John Beard, ex-chief of police of Nicholasville, charged with embezzling the city's funds, was acquitted to the surprise of everybody.

E. C. Moore, a prominent citizen of Marion county, is the defendant in a seduction suit filed by Emma Wilson, a farmer's daughter, who wants $20,000 damages.

All the prisoners in the Lebanon jail, eight in number, broke out Saturday night, for the second time within the past month. Five of them voluntarily returned.

Deputy United States Marshal Stringer attempted to capture John Thomas, of Madison, who is wanted on the charge of moonshining, but had to let him go after firing five shots at the fleeing man.

Capt. A. J. Burke, aged 64 years, dropped dead on his farm in Boyle. He probably died of heart disease and had been dead some time when the body was found. The deceased leaves a widow and a large family.

Mike Maloney, a Cincinnati Southern brakeman, fell from a car while crossing High Bridge and had a miraculous escape from death, his hands unconsciously catching the telegraph wires which run alongside the structure.

Editor Ansel D. Miller, of the Richmond Climax, had a dog to bite him one night last week and thinking it mad, he decided to try the famous Burgin madstone. The stone adhered four times. Mr. Miller is doing nicely and apprehends no danger.—Pantagraph.

BRODHEAD.

Rev. A. J. Pike filled his engagement at Gilead last Sunday.

Dr. Benton is gradually improving and will in course of two or three weeks be able to discharge his duties as of yore.

Dr. J. M. Clark is erecting a large combination building to be used as a dwelling, private office and drug store, with rooms to let.

Mrs. Amanda Ballard, a dashing young widow, received serious internal injuries in falling from the platform leading to Frith & Dunn's store from the railroad last Thursday.

The two-weeks old babe of William Francis died Sunday night and the remains were placed in the Christian Cemetery. This is the first bereavement of the young parents.

Mrs. Ed Albright entertained in royal style at her little cottage home one night last week in honor of her cousin, Miss Mattie, who enters the spring term of Prof. Chandler's school.

Frank Sanders and family, who left Rockcastle some eight or 10 years since, returned to his old place from Grays this week and says that the country of Rocks is far better than that of Knox.

Miss Jennie Reynolds has been confined to her room the past week as the result of a deep cold. John Jarrett, Jr., and Albert Albright are now braving an attack of measles in the last stage. Mrs. J. G. Frith and little son, Ora, are undergoing a siege of the old-fashioned grip.

Oh how anxious the boys are getting about the post-office at this place. It is reported that some of the applicants have gone to Washington to see who is going to be the lucky man, but somehow we can not believe this report. Another report says that Mr. R. L. Totten says that if he is not the successful man George Davison will never get the instructions of this county any more, &c. But if a hard working and never-tiring republican should happen to be the man, Mr. L. L. Jarrett would hand out the mail at Brodhead. But as all the applicants are such nice accommodating, ladies first and then gentlemen, we have nothing to say.

LANCASTER.

Walker & Hudson bought the Wade Walker farm of 540 acres, for about $15,000 and paid the cash for it.

George T. Farris has bought a vacant lot on Danville Avenue containing one acre of John Duncan for $200.

It is reported that a republican will make the race for county judge, independent of party affiliation, but advocating free turnpikes. This will cause a much mooted question to be further discussed and it will insure his defeat.

The meeting of the republican committee on Saturday to nominate candidates for county offices may not be such smooth sailing as was predicted. Some old wounds will not heal. The spirits of George Davison and Speed Smith are moving about and a hypnotic influence is being exerted wherever it will work.

Miss Vandelia Varnum will deliver a lecture in the court-house Monday night, March 22, on the subject: "Who pays the Freight?" The lecture is to be under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., proceeds above expenses to be donated to the K. P. lodge. Miss Varnum comes highly recommended as a speaker. Admission 25 cents.

The young ladies of the Missionary Society of the Christian church, are making extensive preparations for their reception, to be given on Monday night, Nov. 15, at Mrs. Wesley West's. This promises to be one of the social events of the season. They will serve dainty refreshments and promise to all a delightful entertainment.

Quite a sensation was created in the Bryansville section on Monday morning, when it was announced that a female child about one week old had been left at Mr. Pole Cheatem's door about 1 o'clock Sunday night. Some one knocked at the door, but when Mr. Cheatem opened it no one was there but the child. It was well wrapped but was crying piteously. No clue has been discovered as to its parentage. It is believed that Mr. C. will keep the child and raise it. He is a popular man and a good citizen.

A member of the committee who was absent when the report was accepted demonstrated that an error had been committed by reporting the cost of repairs on Section 2, Danville, Lancaster and Nicholasville road at $163 per mile as the cost for six years past was only $118 per mile per annum and it would only be $90 per mile if the president, Charles Boulden, is correct in saying that he can keep it in good order with 15 rods of rock to the mile at $6 per rod or $90 per mile. The error arose from the fact that the committee reported that section as 16 miles, when 22 miles should have been considered.

The turnpike fight is on in earnest and will be settled by ballots instead of dynamite. After much discussion the fiscal court decided on Tuesday to order a vote to be taken on the question, whether or not county bonds shall be issued to raise funds to purchase the roads. There are 93 miles and the cost will be about $30,000. It will be a heated campaign and as it will require a two-thirds vote to carry it, it is not likely to win; especially as times are close and the manner of raising the tax is not equitable and imposes a great burden on those who receive the least benefit from the roads by travel. If the object is to pay the people's way to town, we had as well leave the L. & N. railroad for that purpose.

Circuit court is in session, Judge M. C. Sautey presiding, with Commonwealth Attorney J. S. Owsley ably and zealously watching the interests of the Commonwealth, W. B. Mason taxing court, Sheriff Robinson and his faithful corps of deputies, and Jailor Bengel—all executing the orders of the court.

The judge delivered a forcible and comprehensive charge to the grand jury on Monday, which not only served the purpose for which it was intended, but served as a valuable lecture to the student of law in reference to the various crimes, the penalty and the production of evidence. The criminal docket is light, there being no murder cases, which speaks well for our county. There is a fairly large civil docket. The following cases have been disposed of: Commonwealth vs. John Ross for furnishing liquor to a minor fined $50; John Royston breach of the peace fined $50; William Rout same offense fined $50; Obediah Garnett selling liquor unlawfully $50; same for carrying concealed weapons fined $50. In each of the foregoing cases the fines are to be worked out if not paid. Frank Cockrell and Jesse Mundy, colored, got one year in the penitentiary for house-breaking. Dee Turner was fined $50 and Mike Turner $25 for assault and battery.

At Milwaukee, Maggie Kennedy, a former queen of the circus ring, transformed her bed into a funeral pyre and was literally cooked to death. She saturated her bed with kerosene oil, lay down upon it and touched a match to the oil, making no attempt to escape from the flames she had started.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - MAR. 12, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

THE destruction of several toll-gates in Madison causes the Register to give the cowardly raiders some hot stuff, which we most heartily endorse. It says it is high time these mobs were broken up and their members landed in the penitentiary, a place prepared for just such criminals. Their offense is not simply an offense against turnpike property—it is a savage assault on the natural rights of men. They must be apprehended and convicted. Private rights have been invaded, the law has been violated, order has been brushed aside, the county discredited and the State dishonored. Let justice be done.

AFTER all the upheaval that brought E. C. Linney to the surface may go for naught. It is now claimed that the Louisville city council, without authority to do so, changed the boundary of the Senatorial district by annexing a suburb, thereby rendering the election void and that neither he nor his democratic opponent can be seated. If this is true all of the so-called Senator's supposed importance will go glimmering and instead of going to Washington to take charge of the government printing office, he will have to go back to the case in some other printing establishment.

CONGRESSMAN BAILEY, who spoke here during the campaign for the democratic ticket, and who will probably be the leader of the minority in Congress, says the democrats should offer no factions opposition to the republican program for protection. They should, he thinks, insist on a full hearing and debate so that there shall be no flaws in the record. He is satisfied that we can win next time for the administration has bitten off much more than it can masticate.

THE 54th Congress appropriated nearly 1,100 millions of dollars, which reckless waste of the public funds causes Chairman Cannon, Reed's man of the appropriation committee, to say that the expenses of the government during the last Congress were in excess of the legitimate demands of the public service. The public agrees very fully with Mr. Cannon, but nobody expected him to go off in that way. It was supposed he was an apologist for the concern.

CHAIRMAN JOHNSTON, of the democratic State Central Committee, says the doors will be left wide open for those who want democratic success to join with us. This is the right spirit. There should be no questions asked, no charges made, but an earnest made effort from all sides to get together, not for the offices, but for the good of the country, which will soon need the saving grace of the democratic party.

THERE seems to be a disposition on the part of most people, who want to see justice administered, to advocate a respite for Walling till after Jackson is hanged, hoping that on the scaffold the principal in the tragedy will exonerate his tool. We believe, however, that if the law shall take its course no injustice will be done.

THE story published by several papers that Blackburn had thrown up the sponge and would not stand for re-election to the Senate proved what it bore on its face to be—the merest bosh. Joe does not surrender so easily. He will die a fighting, the more especially when he has a fighting chance, as in this instance.

DR. HUNTER's claim that he has 44 votes pledged to him for U. S. Senator is doubtless an effort to screw the courage of those who are actually pledged up to the sticking point. If his assertion is true he has pain sailing for the nomination, but it is not true by a jug full.

LOUISVILLE ladies will continue to wear high hats and obscure the sight of the stage from those who sit behind. The mayor vetoed the ordinance prohibiting the wearing of high hats in theatres, because he thinks it unconstitutional.

GOV. BRADLEY has no patience with juries that try to shift the responsibility of punishment on him by finding a man guilty and then asking for his pardon, and very sensibly turns down all such petitions.

How have the mighty fallen! John J. Ingalls, erstwhile U. S. Senator from Kansas, has gone to Carson, Nev., to write up the prize fight for a New York paper.

POLITICS.

Cleveland left a gold reserve of $150,000,000. The Senate agreed to a sine die adjournment. McKinley has already received 98,000 applications for pie. Dr. G. E. Townsend was nominated for mayor of Bowling Green.

Rev. S. H. Young, of Wooster, O., was appointed governor of Alaska.

A bill making prize-fighting a felony passed the Arkansas House by a large majority.

Gen. Harrison refused to indorse his son, Russell, for an internal revenue collectorship.

George W. Stone, of Leitchfield, was appointed State inspector of mines by Gov. Bradley.

Judge Rives, of Lebanon, has withdrawn from the race for circuit judge leaving Judge Patterson without opposition.

A feud between friends of Cooper and Day, both of Mt. Sterling, may result on account of the primary election for judge.

Hon. John A. Violett, claimed as one of the gold democrats who would vote for Hunter, denounces the story and Hunter too.

All but two of the members of the Sinking Fund Commission voted to retain Warden Happy. Clerk Canfield, however, must go.

On leaving Washington for Frankfort Joe Blackburn said he expected to be back in his old place again. The ex-Senator is a hopeful soul.

The sinking fund commissioners refused to remove Warden Happy from the Eddyville penitentiary, though urged by Gov. Bradley. Happy is a Hunter man.

A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature to authorize an appropriation of $100,000 by the city of New York to establish a colony for habitual drunkards.

A Lexington paper says that at a conference there it was agreed that Blackburn should resign as nominee of the caucus and that McCreary be substituted for U. S. Senator.

J. R. Mount is a candidate for the Legislature in Oldham county, subject to the democratic primary, to be held May 22. He is a son-in-law of Mr. J. M. McRoberts, of this place.

Col. Washington has made a powerful appeal to Gov. Bradley to save Walling's life. He says his client is mentally irresponsible and completely under the domination of Jackson.

Secretary Bliss says he is going to be conservative and only going to make necessary changes in the Interior Department but he will likely be induced to believe that an entire change is imperative.

Senator William Henry Jones, chairman of the republican joint caucus, has called a caucus for Friday night at Frankfort. The call does not specify the nomination of a candidate for Senator as the purpose of the meeting.

Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter says he has 51 votes pledged for him in the republican caucus, and that consequently he will be nominated and elected Senator. He says he is for himself first, last and all the time and has no second choice.

Failing to prevent the election of a republican Senator, it is said that Senator Blackburn will contest on the grounds of illegal votes cast by Speed, Lieberth and other republicans alleged to be disqualified to serve in the Legislature.

The Grecian reply to the Powers was conciliatory. Greece offers to withdraw the fleet from Crete waters, and to place her troops in Crete under control of the Powers to restore order. It is suggested that the question of Crete autonomy be left to the Cretans.

It is said that when Congress adjourned, Hon. James B. McCreary "looked mournfully towards Kentucky." Incidentally, it may be observed that whenever the Honorable James McCreary looks mournful, it is time for other politicians to begin to feel that way.—Glasgow Times.

C. R. Cotton's platform ought to make him solid for the Legislature in Jessamine. He says: "I not only favor free turnpikes, but free lunch counters; coal reduced to six cents a bushel; free transportation on railroads, no charges should be made by liverymen; banks should not charge interest on money; doctors no medical fees; lawyers should be retired from business; merchants made to sell goods at cost and every effort put forth to make times more prosperous."

TO THE PEN.—Deputy Sheriff R. M. Newland, assisted by Jailer George DeBord and Jack Beazley, took Frank Brooks, George Craig, Fields Salter and John Anderson to Frankfort yesterday to serve the sentences imposed at the recent term of circuit court.

JUDGE SAUFLEY was right when, in his charge to the grand jury, he characterized the turnpike raiders as cowards. The turnpike raiders are cowards, and turnpike raiding would soon be broken up if so many of the officers of the law were not also cowards.—Courier-Journal.

No toll is being taken on the Hall's Gap pike, John Raines, who kept the gate near town having moved to his farm on Neal's creek, and Mrs. Eubanks, who kept the other gate, having declined to collect it and will move out. William Wilder, who kept the gate on the Lancaster pike for a week, has thrown up his job and James Belder, the paralytic, now has it in charge.

ONE of the showmen and his wife had a row at the St. Asaph the other night and as a result the husband was locked up. He claimed that the woman had received a compromising letter in answer to one she had sent, and the trouble began. He choked her and she blacked his eye. Next day Judge Carson fined the man $10, which he paid and shook the dust of the city from his feet. The woman went Scott free.

THE changes that time has wrought in Stanford in the last 45 years is wonderful. Mr. Mack Huffman, who though unmarried, confesses to 60 years of age, tells us that he and only five other persons are living here that were when he was 10 years old.—J. N. Craig.

Mrs. Susan Warren, Mrs. Sallie VanArsdale, Wm. Daugherty and J. S. Hughes. He further finds that within a radius of 2 1/2 miles from Stanford not a single person is living in houses now that they were 45 years ago and that he is the only person that is living on the same lot that he was at that time, though the old house has long since gone the way of so many others. Mr. Huffman was born and raised here and has seen the place grow from a mere hamlet to one of considerable importance.

REMARKABLE FAMILY.—Mr. George Conway Abraham, who lies quite ill at his home in the East End, is a member of a family remarkable in many respects. The parents, Francis Abraham and Justine Mallory, came to this State from King William county, Virginia, when Indians constituted the greater part of the population and settled on the farm still occupied by the family. To them were born 11 children all of whom lived until the youngest was 45 years old. The wife was the first to die. Six of the family are living whose combined ages are 465 years making an average of 77 1/2 years. Five of them live in one house, all enjoying single blessedness. Five of the eight daughters married and their husbands were all house carpenters. George C. and William F. served the Confederacy under Morgan and came home without a scratch, except small pox marks contracted at Fort Douglas. The old gentlemen are very proud to say that not one of the descendants of the family ever cast a republican vote.

J. T. JONES has opened a dyeing and cloth cleaning business in connection with his tin shop. The German who was with the well-known Anderson does his work.

MRS. KATE P. MILLER, as ext'x, has changed the date for sale of lots advertised elsewhere in this issue to Saturday March 13 at 2 P. M., in front of the court house door. At the same time she will sell a valuable law library and a safe, new and in good condition.

MARCH 13.—The date for the meeting of the Democratic County Committee has been postponed one week and the members of it are requested to be in Stanford at 10 A. M., Saturday, March 13. The candidates for the various county offices will be on hand at 1 P. M., same date. J. E. Carson, chm'n.

DAWSON.—Squire W. L. Dawson was elected county judge yesterday on the 10th ballot, the vote standing three for him and one for Hon. Harvey Helm. From the first to the ninth ballot the vote stood two each for Mr. Helm and Mr. P. M. McRoberts, Squires Dawson and Bailey voting for the former and Edmiston and Faulkner for the latter. They then voted for their colleague, Mr. Dawson, who cast his vote for Mr. Helm. It is a pretty trying time to go into office now but we believe that Judge Dawson will prove equal to the occasion and fill the office with credit alike to himself and the county.

BABY FOUND.—While getting driftwood out of Dix river near the mouth of Hickman's cave Tuesday, Jerry Engleman, a well-known colored man, found a Negro boy baby. A fishing line was tied tightly around its neck and it was very evident that its cruel mother or some other heartless being had tied the little thing to a rock or some other heavy substance and thrown it into the river. It was a good-looking child and Engleman thinks it could not have been exceeding two weeks old. After burying it in his garden the old man came to town and told the officers what he had found, but it is more than probable that its destroyer will never be known.

DEATH.—J. Metzgar Ashlock died at Lexington Wednesday after 10 days' illness of pneumonia and his remains were brought here yesterday and laid to rest in the old family burying ground on the Lancaster pike. He was a guard at the asylum and was both a good officer and citizen. He was a son of the late George Ashlock and was 26 years old. Mr. Ashlock joined the order of the Maccabees some months ago but took out no insurance. The following members of the Lexington Tent accompanied the remains here: A. L. Hanks, E. B. Hawkins, R. S. Nichols, and J. H. Shryock, while David Lee, Charles Smith and Thomas Martin, associated with him at the asylum showed their respect for him by coming also.

THE turnpike raiders were out again Monday night and tore down the gate on the Lancaster pike again. We have no stock in a single pike and therefore do not speak from an interested standpoint, but if we were an officer of any of the roads and the raiders were to tear down a gate, we would put armed men there and collect toll if it took every cent and more to pay the expense. One man with backbone and a gun could run every raider that would ever show his face. They are afraid to do anything in the open, but prefer darkness for their deeds and anonymity for their communications. The following cowardly epistle was received through the mails, but it does not scare the receivers even a little bit. Mr. Vandever says the cowards are at liberty to call on him any time they see fit and he will give them the best in his shop:

MR. D. W. VANDEVEER.—Dear Sir: As you seem to be Determined to still collect toll on your Roads We will say that if those Gates Does Not come Down at once they will Be taken Down and if there is one Man Hurt off the Free turn men your Neck and Wallis Varnons and your Property shal Pay the Pendtley Now you may think this Simply talk off one man But you Will see there is Hundreds of us so you can Do as you Pleas and take What Follows your Res a Friend.

P. S.—We Have Bin off thinking coming and seing you and Wallis About Mid Night soon any way it is a Little unpleasant to Here thunder With out a Cloud But this Will Happen if those Gates Does Not come off. Stanford, March 4.

TAXES.—Sheriff T. D. Newland contributes about a column to this issue. Read it and if your name appears in it you had better see him at once.

THE rain of Tuesday kept a number of the members of the Lincoln County Medical Society from coming to their meeting here and very little business was transacted.

DEATH.—"Aunt Mealy" Buckner, one of the best old colored women who ever lived in Stanford, died Wednesday. She was the wife of Scott Buckner and was about 60 years old.

FOR getting drunk and acting in a disorderly manner, James Humber, an East End Negro, was put under guard and will be tried at Crab Orchard this morning. He went to the house of Geo. Haggard and scared his family and when the latter found him he cut two ugly gashes in the Negro's head with an axe.

FAST MAIL.—It lightened and it thundered, it rained and poured, but those disturbances of the elements failed to keep the people from seeing the Fast Mail at Walton's Opera House Monday night. A good sized crowd was there and enjoyed the performance from the rise to the last fall of the curtain. The scenic effects were very realistic, the blowing up of the steamboat, the mail and freight trains and Niagara Falls creating both wonderment and applause. Each actor seemed to fit his part and all did well. The versatile author of the play, Mr. Lincoln J. Carter, has several other shows on the road and all are doing like the one that appeared here, winning success and coining money for him. Manager R. G. Gupitill is an exceedingly clever, as well as a very fine business man, and makes friends wherever he goes.

MOODY.—Instead of going to the opera, the religious editor of this paper went to hear Moody at Music Hall, while in Cincinnati Wednesday night, and was amply repaid, even if he had heard nothing further than the solo by Prof. Towner, "When the Mists have Rolled Away," accompanied in the chorus by several hundred voices. It is a grand song, grandly sung and Mr. Moody himself said he had never heard better music. In fact he declared that he was loath to begin as he would like to hear that choir sing all night for there could not be better music this side of glory, and so it seemed as the notes filled the immense hall and stirred the audience of 5,000 people. The great evangelist spoke from Isaiah: "Let the wicked man forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts, &c." It was directed mainly to sinners and was one of the most powerful efforts ever listened to. He explained repentance at length, urged the sinner to turn from his way and accept the salvation that can be had for the asking. His manner is intensely earnest, his words are eloquent and taken all in all he has hardly a pulpit superior. Just before the sermon he asked the audience to engage with him in silent prayer and a stillness prevailed with those 5,000 people, which would have been interrupted even by a pin fall.

MATRIMONIAL.

G. William Gouvier, in the Chatham county, Ga., jail under a 15 years' sentence for murder, married Miss Sarah Reilly.

M. T. Reynolds, a widower of 55, and Mrs. Sarah C. Gooch, a good looking widow of 51, were married this week. Both are from the Waynesburg section.

James W. Harris, a widower of 79, was married at Centralia, Mo., to Miss Lizzie Allen, a widow of 23. The groom has six children who are older than his wife.

Jacob Cross, a Rushville, Ind., farmer, who has just died, was married six times and three of his former wives with his widow, survive him. Five of the women were widows when Cross married them.

Down in Southwestern Kentucky, last week, a man caught a fellow hugging his wife. Instead of killing him, he went to a lawyer and stated the case. "I can get a divorce for you easy enough on that," said the attorney. "I do not want a divorce" said the fellow "that woman's the finest in town, what I want is an injunction," and thereupon the man of law expired.

Jesse C. Lynn and Miss Ora Wood were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Rev. R. R. Noel's by that gentleman. The wedding was a quiet affair, there being no attendants and only a few friends present. After the ceremony the young couple drove out to the groom's father's, Mr. James E. Lynn, where they will reside. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. Thomas E. Wood, of the Maywood section, and is an unusually handsome and attractive lady and is the possessor of many accomplishments. The groom is the well-known stock man who counts his friends by the hundreds. He is the eldest son of Mr. J. E. Lynn and a fine business man. That the union will be a happy one we have not a doubt and the INTERIOR JOURNAL extends to the happy pair its heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

Something new in the realm of Health and Hygiene. It is for the benefit of every man, woman and child. It is nature's great helper in the use of the justly celebrated economical Vapor Bath Folding Cabinet for Homes. A complete Russian Medicated or Perfumed Bath or Hot Springs Treatment by your own fireside at a nominal cost. All physicians endorse it and it is now in use in many Hospitals of the country and in thousands of homes. Guaranteed a perfect cure for La Grippe, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Colds, Skins Diseases, Nervousness, Corpulency, Kidney and Liver Troubles, and is Woman's Best Friend. After a vapor bath just before going to bed, you will say no other bath is comparable to it. It removes all the effete, pernicious accumulations of the skin, rendering it smooth and glowing, reinvigorating the whole system. With ordinary care will last a life time. When not in use can be folded and set away. Two or three cents' worth of wood alcohol and about a pint of water is all that is necessary for each bath.
